

oting Age House

an auto - which has proven highly dangerous weapon uction to life, limb and Massachusetts labor at girls of 18 as women.
and Federal governments he same Income Taxes oyed 18, 19 and 20 year and women in Massachu-they impose on every l years of age or over.

ge students and other citizens under the age e taking a greater inter-politics and public issues they are denied the right Let us show these young women of today that they ed by their elders of 21 age and over. Let us show we are interested in their on political and public
. Let them bring their d protests off the streets the polls. Most of these en and women will app-his new responsibility. I hat if 18, 19 and 20 year re given an opportunity to Massachusetts, that they an even more active and interest in the public aff their towns, citizens, d country. They will be-re civic-minded and there less crime and rioting.
be present, no person ld an elective office until is 21.

's mandatory voting age arbitrary, Antiquated and to our modern age. It ck to the days of the

Winter Weekend Features Joni Mitchell, Blanket Concert

by J.D. Cottell II

Winter weekend this year opens on Friday evening, at 8 p.m., in Harrington Auditorium, with a concert given by Joni Mitchell. Joni, whose writing credits include "Both Sides Now", had decided to quit the concert business for a year. Her concert here and another in Buffalo will end a very successful string of public appearances. Her stunning physical attributes matched her vocal virtuosity, thereby promising this to be an excellent evening of entertainment. Tickets for this concert are $2.50 for Tech students and their dates, while $3.50 for others.

Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Alumni Gym will be a blanket concert with the McCoys and comedian Uncle Dirty. The McCoys are a rock group which has been around for quite a while. Most of you remember "Hang on Sloopy" and "Fever", which were popular a few years back and were cut when they were still in their middle teens. They grown up a bit since then, which is reflected in their two most recent albums. It is too bad they do not have the public notoriety due them.

Uncle Dirty (Bob Altman) is a former Wall Street broker and Miami cabaret owner turned comedian. He is a combination of several successful typical jokesters, folding into a pattern mostly reminiscent of Mort Sahl. He is learned, likeable and without a doubt an excellent showman.

A bar will be set up and drinks of all kinds will be available for a nominal fee. Tickets for this Saturday afternoon extravaganza will be $1.00 for Tech students, and $2.00 for others.

Saturday night our basketball team swings into action and on Sunday at 3 p.m. the Lowell State College Concert Choir will give a concert as part of the Worcester Art Museum series at the Art Museum court.

Joni Mitchell, appearing in concert at Harrington, Fri. Dec. 12 at 8:00 p.m.

Peace Corps Program Extended and Expanded